

Index to taped interview of Michel Bloch, 2/9/84

Time	Topic
0.0	Lead. Interviewer A. Kingsnorth. Language -- English. Setting local business. Interruptions non-existent, but background noise of customers and US airforce planes annoying.
1.45	Background.
Francophilia 2.45	Observes self-realization at early age that there is an advantage to being French outside of France. *
US trip 3.45	Trip to US in early 1970's, despite greater interest in Nepal, Middle East etc. Culture shock. Very well received with free pizza and visits to a political convention in Georgia
5.45	Went out of way to visit Texas because of interest in horses and Westerns.
6.00	Visit to Santa Cruz in early seventies. Impressed with "freedom" experienced there.
6.45	Comments on difference between American and French styles of friendship.
7.0	Returned to France, 1972-1976. Lost interest in profession of photography and pace of life. Returned to ease of life in California.
Origin of Crêpe Business 8.15	Started selling crêpes at craft shows using two small braziers. Participated in a wine festival in Sacramento and invited to stay. Previously when driving through, could not conceive how people could survive in Sacramento's heat.
9.30	In the past not interested in money-making, but slowly became imbued with American millionaire aspirations.
Horse-riding 10.30	Backtrack at pressing of interviewer to fill in part of background not mentioned so far. Participated in international riding competitions as part of French Junior National team. Olympic caliber. Owned horse stables, but became fed up with the daily grind involved.
11.30	Trip to Texas to check out childhood visions of the American West. Discusses influence of Westerns and US (Hollywood) culture on European children.
12.30	Recounts experience of being adopted by a small Texan town.
13.30	Would like to ride now, but only possible if full time regular activity. (Researcher's comment: the Blochs in fact do ride fairly regularly locally)
